

THIS Power Amplifier does not contain an Intervalve Transformer between input terminals and first valve. If used on radio therefore it is essential that a Sterling No. K1415 intervalve transformer or its equivalent should be added externally, between the output of the receiving set and the input terminals of this Amplifier. If used to amplify local speech or gramophone music a microphone transformer No. K1417 must be used in place of the intervalve transformer referred to above.